1. Avenue for Graduate Students to Represent at Board of Governors

The Graduate Students' Association (GSA) has been advocating for a seat in the Board of Governors for many years. The University of Saskatchewan Graduate Students' Association is the only Graduate Students' Association among U15 universities, which does not have a seat in the Board of Governors. Therefore, GSA is looking for avenues from the senior leaders on how the voices of graduate students can be heard at the Board of Governors' meetings.

2. National Lobby Week: Canadian Federation of Students

The GSA was able to attend the National Lobby Week organized by Canadian Federation of Students (CFS) to address students' concerns and requests at the federal level. The GSA representatives met Members of Parliaments (MPs) from Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and British Columbia to speak about affordability of education (tuition, living cost, debts), mental health support, parental benefits, etc. Some MPs promised to look into these matters and present the items to their caucus, parliament, standing committees, and in their many critic roles.

3. Delay in Graduate Studies and Minimum Guaranteed Funding Enhancement

The GSA Executives are working with the College of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies to inquire into the delay in degree programs. Unlike, many other U15 universities, the graduate students at the University of Saskatchewan takes longer than usual to finish their degrees, which adds financial stress in students' lives, education becomes more expensive, and students are delaying in many important life-decisions, including, but not limited to, joining workforce to contribute to the economy, having children (who are the future of this country), buying houses, etc. Moreover, the minimum guaranteed funding that students receive in this university does not reflect the median time needed to finish their degrees. For example, doctoral students take over seven years to finish a PhD. However, the minimum guaranteed funding that they receive in their first year is usually around for three years. There is no option for graduate students to study part-time and work full-time to support the skyrocketing education costs. Therefore, GSA is requesting minimum guaranteed funding for PhD students to be at least four years, for thesis-based Masters students to be three years. The GSA is also requesting the University to consider providing parental benefits to graduate students during their parental leave.

4. Changes for Graduate Students Living in University Residence

The GSA Executives have strongly advocated for graduate students living in the university residence, as we were receiving many concerns and complaints from these student group for many years. The GSA Executive had many interactions at different levels of the university leadership team to address such concerns and provided constructive criticism and feedback, so that the services are enhanced at university residence. Following such level of advocacy and discussions, the GSA received some updates from the University Residence Office: removal of early termination fee for graduate students, who finish their degree any time during their contract and the students will have the option to finish their contract by staying in the university residence even if the student was graduated earlier than the contract finish date. To address more inclusiveness, students who become pregnant or have babies will have the option to move to the kids-friendly residence without paying transfer fee and can continue to pay their rent according to the original contract until the end of the contract. After the contract ends, the students may choose to continue staying in the kids-friendly building with a new contract of that particular building, or may choose to move out of the residence. Students will also receive double the amount of Residence Cash Card (RCC) credit they used to receive with the option to rollover of the unused amount until the end of the contract.

5. Discussion with Studentcare for Enhancement of the Services of GSA Health and Dental Plan

The studentcare suggested a fee increase in the GSA Health and Dental Plan from the upcoming academic year. The GSA Executives decided not to put extra burden on the graduate students, as they are still recovering from the pandemic effect. Therefore, the GSA Executives have decided to use GSA's own fund to cover this extra cost for the continuation of the service provided by the GSA Health and Dental Plan. The Executives are still having discussions about service enhancement with Studentcare, so that students receive more coverage and better services with extensive members in the network.

6. GSA Winter Orientation: Curbside Pickup of Swag Bags

The GSA was able to distribute about 500 swag bags as part of the Winter Orientation activity. The Executives are grateful to the volunteers for helping GSA organize this event.

7. GSA Need-Based Winter Bursary

The GSA was able to provide winter term need-based bursaries to eligible applicants. The GSA is grateful to the College of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies for this financial support to our graduate students.

8. GSA Annual Awards

The GSA has been organizing Annual Awards that are intended to celebrate graduate students, as well as honor faculty members that have generously supported graduate students in research, scholarly and artistic pursuits. The GSA Award Committee has extended the deadline to submit nominations for awards.

9. International Mother Language Day

In 1999, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) declared February 21 as the International Mother Language Day. This day is observed to protect languages used by people around the world. There are a lot of endangered and extinct languages worldwide, including in Canada. Also, there are fewer Indigenous languages, and some are even at the risk of declining further. This year, GSA released a statement to honour this day and also was invited to give a speech at the event of International Mother Language Day, organized by Bangladeshi Community Association of Saskatchewan. The GSA would like to request university to consider this day to be celebrated from upcoming years for a practice of multilingualism, cultural diversity, and multiculturalism.

10. Celebration of Black History Month

Along with the university, the GSA successfully celebrated the Black History Month by honouring the accomplishments made by the graduate students and faculty members coming from the Black Community. The GSA interviewed outstanding graduate students and published the interviews on the University Library website. The GSA is requesting university to seek department-level percentage of graduate students from Black Community for future improvement in diversity.

VP Finance and Operations report - GSA Council Meeting, February 2021

Dear GSA Councilors,

Please, find below the main area I together with the other GSA executives worked and working on during the Fall term:

1. GSA Winter Bursary

25 applicants were selected among 109 received applications and their cheque prepared and mailed out. During my tenure GSA received more than 400 applications and distributed $65000 among 65 applicants.

2. Promoting GSA services and Responding Student concerns

Most of my time was on GSA financial documents and working on renewing contracts.

- I worked on GSA financial documents to prepare the GSA 2022-23 budget information.
 - Budget updating and preparing official documents
- I also organized tax information sessions with CRA agents so students can have interactive sessions in March since university publishes T4 by end of February.

I look forward to working with each one of you and making your voices heard as far as my role allows me to. If you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact me at gsa.fin@usask.ca

March 2022

RE: Vice President's External Affairs Report to Council

Dear Council Members,

Attached is my March executive report for council members:

1) GSA Executive meetings

I regularly attend GSA executive meetings to discuss various topics and events for the upcoming winter term. We had two sessions: February 14 and March 1, 2022. Please visit our GSA website to view our minutes.

2) Usask - Black History Month

The University of Saskatchewan's Black History Month was a huge success as the GSA played a significant role. Interviews, videos, and personal profiles were conducted with many graduate students in February. I want to thank the GSA, volunteers, executive council, and all the graduate students who took an opportunity to get involved. I was very impressed with the excitement and engagement of the events overall. The website is still open and can be viewed at Black History Month - University Library | University of Saskatchewan \(usask.ca\)

3) 2022 GSA Annual Awards update

I am working on the 2022 Annual Awards in collaboration with present and past GSA executives. Currently, we have 11 nomination packages received. The GSA Awards Committee has extended the deadline until Saturday, March 19th. Our executives discussed the possibility of having an in-person event for the winners of the GSA Annual Awards at the GSA Commons, with approximately 40-50 people to attend. The GSA Annual Awards Committee will be meeting in March to discuss plans.

4) Canadian Federation of Students – Lobby Week with Members of Parliament. President Zahan, VP External Affairs, and members for the Canadian Federation of Students attended a meeting with Member of Parliament (MP) Corey Tochor and his assistance from the Conservative Party of Canada (Saskatoon constituency riding). Topics of discussion include education affordability, tuition, cost of living, covid-19, and mental health. Mr. Tochor accommodated to meet for approximately 20 minutes as he had another function to attend at the last minute. His assistant stayed a while after to go over our minutes and reaffirm our requests. Mr. Tochor, although not committing to taking any action with his critic role or standing committee, indicated that he would like to meet again in the next several months.

5) Social media – In collaboration with the GSA Office Manager and President, social media posts continue to be uploaded for the GSA and other graduate student events are scheduled ongoing. Requests can be sent to one of the three of us for approval and posting using four of our platforms.

6) Meetings - I regularly attend monthly meetings for my portfolio as VP of External Affairs and as a member of our GSA executive team. February has been a hectic month at the GSA and Usask, with many scheduled calls and events, including at the GSA commons as we had our GSA graduate students' swag bag pick-up on Friday, February 25, from 1-3 pm.

This concludes my VP executive report. Please feel free to e-mail me anytime at gsa.external@usask.ca if you have any suggestions or comments.
